National Competency Standard for TOUR GUIDE

Standard Code: TOUo6S12V2

[Endorsed by the MALDIVES QUALIFICATIONS AUTHORITY (MQA)]

PREFACE

Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) Authority was established with the vision to develop a TVET system in the Maldives that is demand driven, accessible, beneficiary financed and quality assured, to meet the needs of society for stability and economic growth, the needs of Enterprise for a skilled and reliable workforce, the need of young people for decent jobs and the needs of workers for continuous mastery of new technology.

TVET system in the Maldives flourished with the Employment Skills Training Project (ESTP) funded by ADB with the objective of increasing the number of Maldivians, actively participating in the labor force, employed and self-employed. The Project supported expansion of demand driven employment-oriented skills training in priority occupations and to improve the capacity to develop and deliver Competency Based Skill Training (CBST). The project supported delivery of CBST programs to satisfy employer demand-driven needs. The National Competency Standards (NCS) provide the base for this training. Currently CBST is offered for five key sectors in the Maldives: Tourism, Fisheries and Agriculture, Transport, Construction and the Social sectors. These sectors are included as priority sectors that play a vital role in the continued economic growth of the country.

The NCS are developed in consultation with Employment Sector Councils representing employers. They are designed using a consensus format endorsed by the Maldives Qualifications Authority (MQA) to maintain uniformity of approach and the consistency of content amongst occupations. This single format also simplifies benchmarking the NCS against relevant regional and international standards. NCS specify the standards of performance of a competent worker and the various contexts in which the work may take place. NCS also describes the knowledge, skills and attitudes required in a particular occupation. They provide explicit advice to assessors and employers regarding the knowledge, skills and attitudes to be demonstrated by the candidates seeking formal recognition for the competency acquired following training or through work experience. By sharing this information, all participants in the training process have the same understanding of the training required and the standard to be reached for certification. Certification also becomes portable and can be recognized by other employers and in other countries with similar standards. NCS are the foundation for the implementation of the TVET system in Maldives. They ensure that all skills, regardless of where or how they were developed can be assessed and recognized. They also form the foundation for certifying skills in the Maldives National Qualification Framework (MNQF).

Description of a TOUR GUIDE

Tour guides work for tour and travel guide companies, cruise lines and hotels as seasonal workers, independent contractors or full-time employees. They may lead walking tours, driving tours or cruises through popular sites, national parks, historic neighborhoods, museums or other regional points of interest. Tour guides must be able to retain historical facts, dates and anecdotes, and then relay that information to visitors in an entertaining, informative way.

Tour Guides are cultural ambassadors for the country, in this capacity, they play a vital role in creating memorable experiences for tourist, due to their direct relationship with these tourists. In general, a successful marketing of a tourist destination, image creation and the associated word of mouth depend particularly on the performances of tour guides. In 2003, the world Federation of Tourist Guide Associations (QFTGA) defines the tourist guide as “a person who guides visitors in the language of their choice and interprets the cultural and natural heritage of an area which person normally possesses an area-specific qualification usually issued and/ or recognized by the appropriate authority.”

Professional tour guides need to possess effective communication skills, among many other qualities to perform their jobs. As a result of their daily face to face interactions with tourist from different cultural, ethnic, social and religious backgrounds, their communication competency needs constant honing.

Competency Standard Development Process

The competencies were determined based on the analysis of the tasks expected to be performed by the Tour Guide in the Maldives. The task analysis was based on the existing documents prepared among the experts in the industry and on the advice of the experts in the field of Tour Guide training in Maldives. Competency standards used for similar type of training in other countries were also examined

This Course will provide theoretical knowledge to persons with specified practical skill to gain employment in tourism/water sports and recreation related fields. Moreover, they will be able to govern and provide water sports and recreational activities within the industry or related field.

On completion of the course, the graduates will have developed the skill and knowledge to work as a tour guide.

ASSESSMENT GUIDE

Forms of assessment

Assessment methods must be chosen to ensure that ability to develop and update knowledge can be practically demonstrated. Methods must include assessment of knowledge as well as assessment of practical skills.

The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- ☐ case studies and problem-solving exercises to assess application of knowledge to different situations and contexts
- ☐ questions to assess knowledge of different aspects of the tourism industry
- ☐ review of portfolios of evidence and third party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the candidate.

Assessment context

Assessment must ensure:

project or work activities that allow the candidate to demonstrate the application of knowledge to specific tourism industry contexts and situations.

Critical aspects (for assessment)

Evidence of the following is critical:

- ☐ ability to source industry information
- ☐ general knowledge of the tourism industry, including main roles, functions and inter-relationships of different sectors, with a more detailed knowledge
- ☐ Assessment conditions
- ☐ This is a core unit that underpins effective performance in all other units and combined training and assessment may be appropriate

ELEMENTS OF COMPETENCIES	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
1. Assess the situation	1.1. physical hazards and risks to personal and others' health and safety identified 1.2. Immediate risks to self and casualty's health and safety minimized by controlling hazards in accordance with occupational health and safety requirements. 1.3. The situation assessed and decides on actions required, promptly. 1.4. Assistance sought from appropriate others, as required and at the appropriate time.
2. Apply basic first aid techniques	2.1. Casualty's physical condition assessed by visible vital signs. 2.2. First aid provided to stabilise the patient's physical and mental condition in accordance with enterprise policy on provision of first aid and recognised first aid procedures. 2.3. Available first aid equipment used as appropriate.
3. Monitor the situation	3.1. back-up services appropriate to the situation identified and notified promptly

	3.2. Information about the patient's condition conveyed accurately and clearly to emergency services personnel or health professionals.
4. Prepare required documentation	4.1. Documented emergency situations according to enterprise procedures. 4.2. Reports which are clear, accurate provided within required time frames.

RANGE STATEMENT

This unit applies to all tourism and hospitality sectors. The following explanations identify how this unit may be applied in different workplaces, sectors and circumstances. First aid treatment is that defined in Common Law as emergency assistance provided to a second party in the immediate absence of medical or paramedical care.

Established first aid principles include:

- ☐ checking and maintaining the casualty's airway, breathing and circulation
- ☐ checking the site for danger to self, casualty and others and minimising the danger.

Physical and personal hazards may include:

- ☐ workplace hazards such as fire, floods, violent persons
- ☐ environmental hazards such as electrical faults, chemical spills, fires, slippery surfaces, floods, wild animals, fumes,
- ☐ proximity of other people
- ☐ hazards associated with the casualty management processes.

Risks may include:

- ☐ worksite equipment, machinery and substances
- ☐ bodily fluids
- ☐ risk of further injury to the casualty

- ☐ risks associated with the proximity of other workers and bystanders.

First aid management will need to account for:

- ☐ location and nature of the work environment
- ☐ environmental conditions and situations, such as electricity, biological risks, weather and terrain, motor vehicle accidents,
- ☐ the level of knowledge, skills, training and experience of the person administering first aid
- ☐ familiarity with particular injuries
- ☐ legal issues that affect the provision of first aid in different industry sectors
- ☐ the characteristics of the site where the injury occurs
- ☐ the nature of the injury and its cause
- ☐ infection control procedures
- ☐ availability of first aid equipment, medications and kits or other suitable alternative aids
- ☐ proximity and availability of trained paramedical and medical/health professional assistance
- ☐ the patient's cardio-vascular condition as indicated by vitals signs such as body temperature, pulse rate and breathing rates
- ☐ unresolved dangers such as fire, chemical contamination or fume toxicity of the area where the injury occurs.

Vital signs include:

- ☐ breathing
- ☐ circulation
- ☐ consciousness.

Injuries may include:

- ☐ abdominal trauma
- ☐ allergic reactions
- ☐ bleeding
- ☐ chemical contamination
- ☐ choking

- ☐ cold injuries
- ☐ cardio-vascular failure
- ☐ dislocations and fractures
- ☐ drowning

- ☐ poisoning and toxic substances
- ☐ medical conditions including epilepsy, diabetes, asthma
- ☐ eye injuries
- ☐ head injuries
- ☐ minor skin injuries
- ☐ neck and spinal injuries
- ☐ needle stick injuries
- ☐ puncture wounds and cuts
- ☐ crush injuries
- ☐ shock
- ☐ smoke inhalation
- ☐ sprains and strains
- ☐ substance abuse
- ☐ unconsciousness
- ☐ infections
- ☐ inhalation of toxic fumes and airborne dusts
- ☐ bone and joint injuries
- ☐ eye injuries
- ☐ burns and scalds, thermal, chemical, friction and electrical

Injuries may involve:

- ☐ unconsciousness
- ☐ confusion
- ☐ tremors
- ☐ rigidity
- ☐ numbness
- ☐ inability to move body parts
- ☐ pain
- ☐ delirium
- ☐ external bleeding

- ☐ internal bleeding
- ☐ heat exhaustion
- ☐ hypothermia
- ☐ pre-existing illness.

Appropriate others from whom assistance may be sought may include:

- ☐ emergency services personnel

- ☐ health professionals
- ☐ colleagues
- ☐ customers
- ☐ passers by.

Assistance may include, as appropriate to emergency situations:

- ☐ maintaining site safety and minimizing the risk of further injury or injury to others
- ☐ making the casualty comfortable and ensuring maximum safety
- ☐ assessment of injury situations
- ☐ providing first aid including managing bleeding through the application of tourniquets, pressure and dressings
- ☐ giving CPR and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation
- ☐ giving reassurance and comfort
- ☐ raising the alarm with emergency services or health professionals
- ☐ removing debris

Tools, equipment and material used in this unit may include:

- ☐ first aid kit
- ☐ pressure and other bandages
- ☐ thermometers
- ☐ eyewash
- ☐ pocket face masks
- ☐ rubber gloves
- ☐ dressings
- ☐ flags and flares

- ☐ fire extinguishers
- ☐ communication equipment such as mobile phones

ASSESSMENT GUIDE

Forms of assessment

Assessment methods must be chosen to ensure that application of accepted first aid techniques can be practically demonstrated. Methods must include assessment of knowledge as well as assessment of practical skills.

The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- ☐ practical demonstration of the use of commonly-used equipment and first aid supplies
- ☐ explanation about management of a variety of common simulated injury situations
- ☐ questions to test knowledge of injury situations, types of injury and management of injury situations
- ☐ review of portfolios of evidence and third party reports of performance of first aid by the candidate

Assessment context

This unit may be assessed in a simulated environment

Critical aspects (for assessment)

Assessment must ensure:

- ☐ use of real first aid equipment
- ☐ ability to assess situations requiring first aid and to decide on a plan of action including seeking help
- ☐ ability to apply established first aid principles including:
 - o checking and maintaining the casualty's airway, breathing and circulation
 - o checking the site for danger to self, casualty and others and minimising the danger

Assessment conditions

Assessment must ensure:

- ☐ use of real first aid equipment
- ☐ use of dummies

ASSESSMENT GUIDE

Forms of assessment

Assessment methods must be chosen to ensure that the application of knowledge to guiding and interpretive activities can be practically demonstrated. Methods must include assessment of knowledge as well as assessment of practical skills.

The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- ☐ direct observation of the candidate using knowledge to deliver an interpretive commentary or activity
- ☐ questioning of group members on their response to the candidate's breadth of knowledge and ability to delivery that knowledge in an interesting way

- ☐ review of a research portfolio to assess the candidate's ability to research current and accurate information
- ☐ oral and written questions to assess the way in which the research process has been used
- ☐ oral or written questions to assess key knowledge of Australia and the local area
- ☐ review of portfolios of evidence and third-party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the candidate

Assessment context

Assessment must ensure:

- ☐ demonstration of relevant knowledge through the presentation of an interpretive commentary or activity within an operational and commercially realistic guiding environment (eg at a tourist site, on a coach)
- ☐ interaction with and involvement of a customer group (of appropriate size and nature for the local workplace) with whom knowledge can be shared
- ☐ Presentation of activity or commentary on more than one topic and within more than one environment to ensure that knowledge and skills can be adapted to different guiding contexts.

Critical aspects (for assessment)

- ☐ knowledge of Maldives and the local region
 - o develop a coherent and interesting interpretation for customers
 - o answer the typical questions asked by customers on the given topic
 - o ability to source and update relevant information to meet differing customer needs and to incorporate this information in interpretive commentaries and
 - o ability to source and update relevant information to meet differing customer needs and to incorporate this information in interpretive commentaries and activities

Assessment conditions

This unit must be assessed with the following unit. This unit describes the skills and knowledge that are essential to this unit of competence:

ASSESSMENT GUIDE

Forms of assessment

Assessment methods must be chosen to ensure that the ability to apply people management skills can be practically demonstrated. Methods must include assessment of knowledge as well as assessment of practical skills.

The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- ☐ direct observation of the candidate's people management skills during the operation of a group tour.
- ☐ questioning of group tour members on their response to the candidate's communication and leadership skills
- ☐ case studies and problem solving to evaluate ability to apply solutions to different group conflicts and difficulties
- ☐ oral or written questions to assess knowledge of conflict resolution, leadership and group motivation techniques in a guiding context
- ☐ review of portfolios of evidence and third party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the candidate

Assessment context

Assessment must ensure:

- ☐ operation of a group tour of sufficient duration to allow the candidate to demonstrate techniques to build group cohesion
- ☐ involvement of a customer group of a size and nature that reflects the commercial environment in which the guide operates
- ☐ demonstration of skills within the physical environment normally encountered when conducting commercial guiding activities (eg on a Ferry , at a tourist site)

Critical aspects (for assessment)

- ☐ ability to use communication and leadership techniques to build group cohesion and to respond to 'people management' problems and issues
- ☐ knowledge of the range of people management issues which could arise during group tours. The focus of this range will vary according to the sector in which the guide operates

Forms of assessment

Assessment methods must be chosen to ensure that presentation skills can be practically demonstrated. Methods must include assessment of knowledge as well as assessment of practical skills.

The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- ☐ direct observation of the candidate presenting activities or commentaries
- ☐ questioning of tour members on their response to the candidate's communication skills and breadth of knowledge
- ☐ case studies to assess ability to tailor activities and information to particular customer needs
- ☐ case studies and problem solving to assess ability to respond effectively to problems that occur during activities or commentaries
- ☐ questioning to assess knowledge of interpretive and presentation techniques
- ☐ review of portfolios of evidence and third party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the candidate.

Assessment context

Assessment must ensure:

- ☐ presentation of an activity or commentary within a commercially-realistic guiding environment (eg at a tourist site, on a coach tour, in a national park)
- ☐ presentation of activities and commentaries of a duration that reflects local industry product and practice
- ☐ presentation to and interaction with a customer group of a size and nature that reflects the commercial environment in which the guide operates
- ☐ use of industry-current equipment for presentation
- ☐ presentation of activities and commentaries on more than one topic and within more than one environment (eg at a site plus on a ferry) to ensure that skills can be adapted to different guiding contexts

Critical aspects (for assessment)

- ☐ ability to select information and prepare commentaries or activities to meet a specific need.
- ☐ ability to use interpretive and presentation techniques to create customer-focused, informative and entertaining experiences for customers.

Assessment conditions

This unit must be assessed with one of the following units which describe skills and knowledge essential to this unit of competence:

- ☐ Develop and maintain the general knowledge required by guides
